BROWNS WERE VERY EASY

Senators Took the First Game Without Much Trouble.

MERCER PITCHED GOOD BALL

He Allowed St. Louis But Seven Hits While the Statesmen Touched Up Donahue for Fifteen Safe Drives. Ladies Day and the Second Game of the Series Today.

The Senators got in on the 'good thing' estorday at National Park, when they ced Von der Abe's "little German and" by the score of 6 to 1. The "Done Browns" are outclassed by the Washington club as much as the Statesmen are outclassed by the Orioles and Bostons. Donohue, the best twirler on the staff of the Moond City team, was sent to the rubber, but it might just as well have been the first attempt of a youngster, judging from the manner in which he was treated He was hammered from first to last, and was doubtiess glad when the agony was

The red-headed pitcher was hit for fifteen safeties, Farrelland Tucker making three each and Sellach, Brown and Reilly two each, while Gettoran, DeMontrevita and Wrigiey made one apiece. Mercer was the only Senator who falled to his

While the Wagnerites were touching up the opposing twirler, Mercer was pitching great ball, being found for only seven bits, none of which were for more than one base. Monte Cross, who, by the way, is putting up a splendid game at short for St. Louis, got two hits, as did also Hartman. Murphy, Harley and Hallman banded on Win's delivery for one hit each, while Douglas, Turner, Lally and Donahue were completely baffled by the East Liverpool boy's twisters and floaters, and could not register a hit.

The only error made by the home team will reduce Brown's fielding average, as Tom made a wild throw to first to complete a double play after capturing a fly, allowing the man on first to take

MUTUAL PROTECTION

Charge of the Cases of Deserving Sick and Veteran Players, Thereby Protecting the Pockets of the Men.

If the ideas of Secretary Charles H. Ebbets of the Brooklyn club are carried out the season of 1898 will see the baseball players of the National League organized on a firm basis for mutoal protection, says the Brooklyn Eagle. Mr. Ebbets does not propose on the contrary, his plan will receive the support of the magnates. The organization is projected not as one of offense and defense against the owners of clots, but as a protection against the demands of beats and degenerate veterans of the national game.

The general public knows little of the inner workingsof the National League, their attention being directed toward the playing of the men and the daily standing of the teams in the pennant race. They have been informed that the players receive big salaries for the few hours' work they do each day and there their knowledge ends. In private life, during their stay at home, or on their frequenttrips, the players are continually going into their pockets to help needy players, aiding in testimonials and subscribing toward all manner of schemes and benefits in which they have no personal interest, but as public men they are compelled to meet all demands and are a mark for all comers.

Within the past few months frequent de-ordered the suspension. Mr. Kerrremarked ordered the suspension. Mr. Kerremarked ordered the suspension. Mr. Kerremarked ordered the suspension. Mr. Kerremarked of the player beautiful gram zoday. I suppose Manager Donovan is giving ilswley and Killen a chance to show that they are all right, but the results have not been in their favor. I see the statement is made that Hawley and Killen are doing their beat, but they have lost their effectiveness. If this be true a rest without pay would doubtless have a good effect. A pitcher who has lost his effect' ceness has no business drawing a big salary for something he cannot or will not do. My telegram to Donovan was plain enough." Mr. Kert's second message was evidently sent, for Hawley and Killen were indefinitely suspended by Donovan was plain enough. The suspended by Donovan was plain enough. The suspended by Donovan were indefinitely suspended by Donovan order contribution. These are only a few of the public after.

generous response. The testimonial to Hid McPhee in celebration of his twenty-five years as a League player called for another contribution.

These are only a few of the public affairs. The private drains on the players salaries are even more numerous. They have friends everywhere, old-time players and others, with no means of support, who keep track of the schedule, and are certain to be in the vicinity of the hotel when a visiting team arrives. The needy man, whether deserving or not, is not permitted to retire empty handed for a collection is immediately taken up among the members of the club. This is of frequent occurrence and is met in every city.

Mr. Elbets' plan is for a benevolent organization on the same lines as the actors fund, which will take charge of all such demands upon the players. He outlined the scheme to an Eagle reporter this morning, and was confident of its feasibility. He said:

"On the last western trip the players complained to me of the frequent demands made on them, and I immediately thought of the plan in muesclost be relieve them. I went over the details with them, and they seemed to consider the plan on excelent one if it could become general. Now, there are twelve clubs in the League, each of which carries about twenty mayers. Let them organize into a bour having a central board of officers and branch of ranizations in each city, commosed of the members of each club. The does could be nominal, say 50 cents a week, which would be about $1.440 for the six months of the playing vear. This would be seen to the treasurer of the organization, and se a reperal fund to be devoted to demands of all kines. Should a player need a needy personal any city be could tring him to the local committee, which would be a sent to the treasurer for a certain sum, and it would be forwarded immediately, without any red tepe. In that way the players could be devoted to the same time to prove the same time be protected. It is a movement that they would be giad to take up. If it can be brought to their no

Nineteen of the League's players have made five hits in a single game thus far this season. They are Anson, DeMontreville, Cooley, Delchanty, Lajole, George Davis Fred Clarke, Lowe, Tenny, Long, Tom Brown, Harley, Duffy, McCormick, Callahan, Sockalexis, Tucker, Keeler and Stahl. Several of the Reds have made four hits

John O'Brien, receptly released by Washington, would strengthen Philadelphia's in field materially. O'Brien is a good one. He was lought from Louisville by Wagner, who gave Crooks, Rogers and $1,000 for him. O'Brien was getting the salary limit in Washington Perhaps that is why he was released.—Baltimore Sun. The Sun is of the same opinion as The Times as to O'Brien strengthening the Philadelphia infield. President N. E. Young in a conversation with Manager Bancroft yesterday, told the business lead of the Cincinnati Club that he believed in the plan to have each of the teams make three trips each next season. This is encouraging. Enough of the League magnates have already spoken in favor of the plan to insure a change in next sea-son's schedule. Short trips and short sessions on the home grounds will probably be the rule in the big League next year.

Nearly four thousand persons paid to see Robert Fitzsimmons spar three rounds with Dan Hickey and punch the bag as a curtain raiser of yesterday's Toronto-Scranton baseball game at Scranton. Fitz was not a marker, however, to the finish of the the ninth inning five times for nine bases and four rans, tying the score. With two out in the last half and with two on bases, Massey hit one over White's head and scored the necessary run.

President Hart, of the Chicago Baseball Club, is reported to be in the East making some deal with Messrs. Reach and Rogers, of the Philadelphia Club, for the exchange of players. Delebanty is said to be nearer a place upon the Chicago team than ever before. It is also rumored that Anson will be asked to go to the City of Brotherly Love to manage the Quaker team. terstory is thought to be too good to be true by local fans. Besides, your uncle has given it out that he will be with the Colts next year, as usual. Philadelphia needs a change—Cheago is more than ripe for a change—Chicago Post.

Capt. Ewing told Manager Bancroft to sound President Wagner in regard to a trade for Outfielder Selbuch. "Can we make a trade with you for your left fielder?" asked Manager Bancroft of the head of the Washington Club while the game was go-ing on. "I guess so," was President Wag-ner's reply. "What do you want for him?" ner's reply. "What do you want for him?"
eagerly inquired Bannie, smiling at the prospects of a trade. "I'll take Corcoran and Irwire and say no more about it," repited Wagner, smiling blandly, as Manager Bancroft made a hasty exit to the street and dodged into a beer saloon to "pull himself together." No trade will be made for Selbach.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

PLUMBING IN THE DISTRICT. Suggestions Contained in Inspector Ball's Annual Report.

The annual report of Pluming Inspector omitted to the Commissioners yes terday, calls attention to some very interesting and important facts in connec-tion with the system of plumbing operated Mr. Ball recommends that frame build-

Mr. Rail recommends that trains ound-ings should not be permitted as at present to be added to brick buildings, as it is impossible to adequately protect the waste and supply lines located in such supple-mentary strictures against the effects of frost and the settlement of walls and floors. He mentions some of the changes, which, he says, are for the most part minor ones. Under the new rules it is provided that all exterior stopcocks on water service lines are to be supplied by the water department; that all tapping of main sewers shall be done by a District employe, and that a terra cotta fresh-air inlet pipe shall be terminated at the ground level with east iron.

In speaking of school sanitation the report says: "To maintain a proper standard in school plumbing," and the report in this connection reads, "it should be periodically examined and tested by an expert, and it is hoped that a system for such an examination may be devised and kept in force." level with cast iron.
